SURGEON MAKES ODD FIND

Operation Reveals Rubber Tube and Safety Pin Near Child's Heart.

Anderson, Ind.—A rubber tube one and one-half inches long and one-half inch in diameter, with a large safety pin attached crosswise at one end, was found lodged near the heart of Richard Lynch, five years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynch, near Summitville.

The operation followed the inability of physicians to relieve the boy of severe pains in his chest. The pains had bothered the boy ever since he had double pneumonia and had been operated on more than a year ago.

An X-ray examination disclosed the foreign substance near the heart. The operation that followed resulted in the finding of the rubber tube and the safety pin. A nurse recalled that once when she dressed the incision which resulted from the first operation, she missed a drainage tube. She said she thought it had been lost among the boy's clothing.

GETS 28 EGGS A DAY NOW, FROM 34 HENS

Chas. C. White, Well-Known Breeder, Tells How. Costs Nothing to Try.

"I gave Don Sung to 34 utility Buff Orpingtons and the egg yield increased from 7 to 28 a day. Don Sung is a wonder and I am now giving it to all my hens regularly."—Chas. C. White, Manager Cherry Hill Farm, Ellettsville, Ind.

Mr. White is the well known breeder and exhibitor. He wrote the above letter in December, after his test had shown a gain of 21 eggs a day from 34 hens. We will make you the same offer we made him. Here it is:

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be promptly refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) works directly on the egg-laying organs, and is also a splendid tonic. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health, makes her stronger and more active in any weather, and starts her laying.

Try Don Sung for 30 days and if it doesn't get you the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather, your money will be refunded by return mail. Get Don Sung from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer or send 50 cents for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Dugger Co., 284 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

LAUGH AND GROW FAT

There is no definite information as to how much Miss Hilda Flack (the young lady in the above photo) laughs, but there is undisputed visual evidence of her stoutness. The young lady is a resident of Essex, England, and caused an uproar in the local school when her absence one day was explained by the fact that she couldn't secure a pair of shoes large enough to fit her little feet. Our photo shows the diminutive Miss Flack, who is thirteen years old endeavoring to get a very large-size ladies' shoe on her foot, said endeavor being quite unsuccessful, as you can see.

MUST USE THE SMOKING CAR

Women Who Use the Veed to Rank With the Men on Railways in England.

London.—So many British women have become confirmed smokers that in recent months railway employees have hesitated to enforce the rules against smoking in certain carriages, and it has come to be accepted that if the women passengers do not object, every compartment becomes a "smoking car."

The Great Eastern railroad, whose general manager is General Henry Thornton, formerly of the Pennsylvania & Long Island systems in America, is the first of the railroads to change the existing order and move for a return to pre-war conditions.

By a recent order only such compartments as are designated "smoking" can be used for that purpose, and even though all the passengers may consent, no concessions are made to women.

MARKET'S GAINS ARE WIPED AWAY

Stocks Go Down With A Crash —Leaders React Five To Forty Points

New York, Nov. 11.—Stocks went down with a crash today, all gains of the previous month, and much more in a number of instances, being sacrificed in the wave of liquidation which swept over the market in the furiously active final hour.

Excepting United States Steel and representative railway shares, in which recessions were comparatively moderate, leaders reacted 5 to almost 40 points. General Motors, conspicuous for its recent advance above 400, broke from 386, its best price of the morning, to 348 1/2.

Primarily, the violent upheaval was attributed to recurrent stringency in the money market. Call loans opened at the new high of 14 per cent and held at that price until the last hour, when 20 per cent was demanded, with another jump to 25 per cent just before the finish.

To add to the unsettlement, further apprehension was caused by the demoralized condition which prevailed in the market for foreign exchange. Rates on London, Paris and Rome fell to new levels of discount and remittances to less important European centers were sympathetically affected.

The market was strong almost to the point of buoyancy at the opening, gains of 2 to 3 points being accelerated by the short covering which followed the announcement of the calling-off of the coal miners' strike.

Reversals set in before the end of the first hour, however, each tentative rally being followed by a gradual drop to lower levels. Technical conditions doubtless contributed to the crumbling of prices at the end, many weak-minded accounts being thrown upon the market as "stop loss" orders were uncovered. Sales amounted to 1,900,000 shares, almost 600,000 of which changed hands in the last 60 minutes.

Bonds were featureless and more or less neglected in the attention directed to the stock market. Most issues, including the Liberty group, were again irregular to heavy. Total sales, par value, aggregated $13,350,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

COW GETS LADDER

Painter and All His Work Took a Tumble to Earth.

A painter, whose name is withheld, high at work painting the water tank at the Wantless mine at Buhl, Minn., the other day, felt a tugging at the bottom of the ladder. He looked down and there, scratching her back, was a black cow.

His probable fate flashed into his mind. Bossy took one look upward toward the heavens and saw the painter descending. This time the cow became frightened and ran her horns through the lower rungs of the ladder. Off she went in a gallop, carrying the ladder, painter, paint and all. The ladder he yelled the faster the cow went. It was but a short travel to earth for the painter, who struck the ground with a resounding thud. He escaped uninjured with his feelings ruffled.

To make matters worse Bossy retained ownership of the ladder, which she carried away on her horns. She was caught after she had gone a quarter of a mile.

TO DEMONSTRATE FOOT COMFORT METHODS

Practipedist in a Local Store Will Devote Week to Public Foot Education.

According to the plans of the Practipedists (foot comfort experts) employed in the various shoe stores throughout the country, the end of the week beginning November 17th will find all of us with considerable more knowledge of our feet and of how to keep them comfortable than we have now.

That week has been set aside by the Practipedists of the country as National Demonstration Week, and it is estimated that demonstrations of modern foot corrective methods will be conducted in upwards of thirty thousand shoe stores throughout the country during all of that week. The object is to educate the public regarding the possibilities of relief from foot discomforts and correction of their causes through the use of mechanical apparatus.

The Hard Foot Shop is making preparations on a large scale for this event and expects to have a large crowd throughout that week. Their graduate Practipedist will examine the feet of all applicants and give them advice without charge. He will demonstrate just how comfort is obtained and will explain how to care for the feet and how to select proper shoes without sacrificing style or appearance.—advt 12

When great explosion imprisons Farnum in mine under tons of rock.

When Farnum, after days of agony, digs himself out of mine, his reason gone.

When Farnum, after five years of insanity, returns home to find his wife married to his old rival and his property gone.

When Farnum meets his little son—who does not know him.

When Farnum comes face to face with the man who robbed him of his wife by plot.

When Farnum finds his enemies are about to make millions by Wall Street manipulation of stocks based on rich ore found on his land.

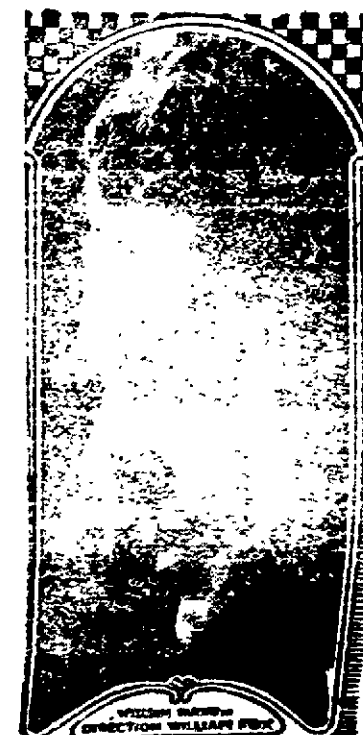

When Farnum, single-handed, faces three conspirators in locked room and demands reparation.

When Farnum, triumphant, reveals himself to his wife, just before suicide of second husband.

Nothing that Farnum has done since "Les Misérables" equals in pathos and power his work in this photodrama of love and high finance, of tragedy, conspiracy and revenge.

With the growing need of advertising farm products and of identifying farms in connection with community enterprises, the New York state college of agriculture at Ithaca suggests that all farms should have distinctive names, and that during the winter
when the family gets together more frequently than at other seasons the matter of a name for the farm may be discussed.Among the most common types of name are those derived from some topographic feature of the farm, such as Riverdale, Brookdale, Lakeside, Hillcrest, Shady Valley, and the like.
Other farms take their names from trees and are called Woodlawn, Shady Lane, Maple Grove, Pinestreet, Birch Farm and so on.A favorite form of name is made by combining the old English words
"hurst" or "croft," which mean homestead, with the name of the owner.
This practice gives rise to such names as Aldenhurst, and Allancroft. Sometimes the name of the owner is suggested in a fanciful way, as in the case of a farm once owned by former Dean Bailey of Cornell, the farm being known as Bailwick. In another instance, Stonefarm denoted the name of the owner and the character of the land. In still another instance, a man who had looked forward all his life to acquiring a farm in his own right finally celebrated his ownership by naming his place Iona Farm.The college points out that a name should not be too fanciful, but should be dignified and descriptive. In a majority of cases, it says, the simpler
and more commonplace the words
that are used, the better the result
may be.Outside of mere sentiment, however,
there is or may be a monetary value
in a name, particularly when associated with high quality of farm products.
By careful attention to the field, fowl
and dairy products it may readily be the Buttercup farm's eggs, or cheese,
or butter, or milk, or honey, or apples, or potatoes, or in short any of the multitude of things which its stands for will be index of high quality, in that case the name makes for quicker markets, a better demand and a higher price. If naming the farm, therefore, only a part will have been done. The full value of the naming will have been attained when it is known wherever heard as a synonym of quality.

FALL SERIES OF CLINICS.

Important Meetings Announced This Month in Oneonta and Richfield.The fall series of free tuberculosis clinics under the auspices of the state department of health, the State Charities Aid association and the County Tuberculosis committee will be conducted as follows:Oneonta, Municipal building, November 18.Richfield Springs, probably at Parish hall, November 25.Hours: 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.; 7 p. m.
to 9 p. m.Dr. Elliott Washburn of the State Charities Aid association will be in charge of the clinic and will be assisted by Dr. Frank L. Winsor, superintendent of the County Tuberculosis sanatorium.Miss Anna Sweeney, R. N., and Miss Carrie Ennis, R. N., will be the nurses in attendance.The spring clinics conducted in this county were very well attended as they were throughout the state and the same is expected to the fall series.
Attention is called to the fact that the clinics are being held at the two places only. It is suggested that out of town people wishing an early examination be at the clinic a little before two o'clock.

A Notable Collection.

There is a wonderful collection of about one hundred and fifty new books on exhibition at the library
this week. Children's Book Week.
It is inspiring to think of this fine exhibit going on all over the United States at the same time. In the libraries in some of the big cities the collection will be a bigger one, no doubt, but it can't well be a finer one.
For all these books are carefully selected for contents, good workmanship and artistic makeup.There is a plentiful supply to suit
children of all ages and various tastes
of those that like to taste good things.
The children are taking full advantage of this week of examining and browsing, and making great plans for the ones they want first when the books begin to circulate next week.
Yesterday for the first time the number of children's books to go out exceeded the adult circulation.It is quite impossible to suggest all the books to be seen. There are several on the order of "things to do,"
from games and amusements to building an airplane; and always, of course, a good number of fairy tales.

Meeting of Farm Loan Directors.

Farm Loan association held a regular monthly business meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. The Otsego County association is one of the most fourishing in New York state.

SUNDY ITEMS OF INTEREST

It is a New Calvinism, However.

The home of Jonathan Edwards
again inspires the American commonwealth with the name and stern justice of Calvin.—[Springfield Republi-

The Ladies, God Bless 'Em!

Apparently the ladies have made up their minds that, in spite of the politicians, there are not going to be any
"off years" in the future. No wonder district leaders and persons of that sort are worried!—[New York Herald.

A Victory for Liberty.

This is not a Republican victory.
It is a victory for liberty under law.
It is a victory won by an aroused conscience among good men of all parties and all classes. There is no evidence that any class, as such, voted against Coolidge on the police issue.—[Fall

A Horse With Speed.

Those who have been counting themselves "in the running" for the Republican presidential nomination
next year may well ask themselves
whether the recollection of Coolidge as governor of Massachusetts has not brought out another candidate who may be more than a dark horse.—

Extenuating the Deer.

It is the generally expressed opinion
that more deer have been shot this fall than in any previous season. The law allows a hunter to get one, be it buck or doe. It was changed on the theory that it would conserve the game, since under the old law many does were killed by mistake and either surreptiously taken out or left to lie in their tracks. At the rate they have been killed this autumn deer will be exterminated in a comparatively short time. Good sportsmen are saying that it would be helpful and desirable to cut the hunting season in half. That probably, under all the circumstances, would be the best thing to do. Perhaps some enterprising legislator will introduce such a bill and if he does most of the good sportsmen will support it.—[Utica Press.

The Wherefore.

my letters," said Mrs. Gabb.
"He must be a wonderful man," commented Mrs. Naybor.
"No, he isn't," replied Mrs. Gabb.
"I know the old fool and I mail my own letters."—[Cincinnati Enquirer.

Does a Visitor Eat More.

Under the British food-conservation program the stay of a visitor in a private house is limited to one week.
Perhaps a regulation of the kind concerning week-end visits might receive support in this country. But is it the theory that a person eats more as a guest than at home? — [New York

Kellogg Presides at Murder Trial

Supreme Court Justice Kellogg of this city is presiding this week at the trial in Binghamton of Newell Y.
Evans, indicted for the alleged murder of Vera Richard, his sweetheart. A panel of 150 jurors was summoned of whom about half were excused for cause on their own application, or were dead or had removed from the county of Broome. Up to noon yesterday five jurors had been secured and it is probable that the box will be filled today, and the trial formally opened. Four of the jurors thus far secured are farmers and the other a retired railroad man. The trial bids fair to be prolonged, and it may require two full weeks before the end
is reached.Don't serve bread pudding plain,

POLICEMEN "KIDDING THE KIDDIES" WHILE MOTHER VOTES.

Policemen "kidding the kiddies" while mother votes. If variety is the spice of life, metropolitan policemen ought to be happy. New duties constantly are thrust upon him and the above is by no means an unusual sight.
From the contented expression on the kiddies faces, the enjoyment seems to be mutual.

WITH THE SUPERVISORS

islation, having in charge the matter of contracting for the printing of the proceedings, awarded the contract to the Freeman's Journal company of Cooperstown. Mr. Cooke, of the ter who appeared before the committee at the hearing given at 10 o'clock this morning. Contracts for various other printed supplies for the use of the Board will also be handled by the Journal company. The contract price for the printing of the proceedings is $3.45 per page, for fifty copies of the daily session and one thousand bound copies.The only other business to come before the Board today was the reading of fifteen petitions from various town boards to raise money for special town purposes, such as relief of poor, lighting streets, fire protection, etc.The members are busy getting their assessment rolls in shape for the inspection of the Committee on Farms

and the adding committee.

Children's Book Week

WITHOUT the battered copy of the Life of Washington, which he read and reread by firelight, the boy perhaps would never have been—Lincoln.

Every one can call to mind cases after cases of the influence a shelf of books in the home has had on the future of an individual and through him on the shaping of world events.

Today a child has greater opportunity for contact with books; first, at school, then at the public library and sometimes—always—at home.

Children's Book Week is a concerted effort on the part of the librarians, the publishers and book-sellers, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and other agencies, to strengthen this last and least certain link in the chain.

"More books in the home" is the slogan—and the emphasis everywhere will be placed on better books as well.

The poster which Jesse Wilcox Smith has made for this national campaign interprets the spirit back of it—a picture of a boy and girl taking books down from the home shelf—their books, which they can enjoy and go back to time and again. We want every child to know the joy of owning books.

Out of personal possession grows the real love of books and respect for what they mean.

Make it a point to see the display of Children's Books this week at the Public Library and at our store.

CAPTAIN HOBSON IN ONEONTA.

Will Speak Sunday in Municipal Hall on "America and Destiny of World."

Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, the famous naval hero of the Spanish-American war, will deliver his great address, "America and the Destiny of the World," in the Municipal hall in Oneonta, Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, when he will consider some of the great problems which America is facing at the present time. With eighteen years in the United States navy, and eight years in the lower house of congress behind him, Captain Hobson is equipped as few public men to know the needs of the nation at the critical period through which she is now passing.

During the past month Captain Hobson has been speaking through his old home state of Alabama, and urging a program of law enforcement with regard to the national prohibition amendment and more recent enforcement act, that will strengthen the government of the country. Last August Captain Hobson spoke in the summer resort towns of New York state and at the present time is reaching thousands of Empire State citizens through the larger cities. The New York campaign opened Sunday, November 9, at Jamestown. Since that day Captain Hobson has spoken to large crowds in the cities in which he has been dated. He will also speak in Franklin Sunday morning and at Delhi at night.

ARMISTICE DAY CELEBRATED.

Jollification Which Started at Midnight Monday Lasts Till Close of Day.

Armistice day was well celebrated in this city and from the time the parade started in the early morning till the last hour of the day there was hardly a time that some form of celebration was not in progress in honor of the memorable occasion, when the Prussian military clique were forced to sign their death warrant.

All seemed to turn out to celebrate. Motorists went out with their cars, driving them through all parts of the city till daylight yesterday morning, dragging anything available behind them that would make a noise. In practically all of these cars the occupants were equipped with some sort of a noise making device. Huge bonfires were built on the streets early in the morning and many more were lighted in the evening. The heavy boom of fireworks, shot guns and revolvers were heard about the streets, in addition to horns, drums and every noise making device to be found by the joyous celebrators.

From the demonstrations made in this city yesterday, there is conclusive evidence that the "Spirit of '76" still exists with the citizens of this age, as it did with their forefathers.

Six Cent Sugar.

If an Oneonta merchant should advertise sugar at six cents per pound, how people would scramble for it. Yet for thirty-one years I have been giving a similar advantage and people have safely rolled up small amounts to millions of dollars with me, for home, farms, old age, sickness or loss of a job, yet there are many who can only comprehend six cent sugar. What a queer old world. I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association—adv. 11.

POLICE NAB BURGLARS

TWO LADS FROM BINGHAMTON AND DEPOSIT ARE ARRESTED.

Eric Lacey, Formerly From Oneonta, and Roy Cordero Confess to Series of Robberies in Binghamton and This City.

The police of this city have been successful in catching the burglars who entered the clothing stores of Jacob Schatzky and the Rochester Clothing company last week, stealing clothing and money from these places, after unsuccessful attempts the night before to enter Ward's Jewelry store and the City Drug store. The capture was a brilliant one, inasmuch as it has cleared up a succession of robberies that have been puzzling the Binghamton police for some time.

These crimes were committed by two young men, Eric Lacey, who gave his home as Binghamton, and Roy Cordero of Deposit, both of whom gave their ages as 20 years. Lacey is quite well-known in this city, having lived here several years ago and attended the grade department of the Normal school. People who were acquainted with him while in this city knew him as an honest lad and one well spoken of and regret very much to learn of his being in this escapade. Cordero had been in Deposit and little information is at hand regarding him.

The first tangible clue upon which the police had to work was discovered by Officer Simmons, who found that two youths had taken the sleeper to Binghamton last Friday morning after the robbery had been committed. The officer also discovered that a man had been stopping at the Hathaway house, answering the description of one of the men who had left the city that evening. The Binghamton police were communicated with and late Monday afternoon Acting Chief Horton, Officer Simmons and S. L. Goldstein of the Rochester Clothing company went to Binghamton, in an effort to help the Binghamton authorities with descriptions and other information as to the men and the articles stolen. They went to several pawn shops in that city, and in one of these Mr. Goldstein identified clothing stolen from his store.

From clues gained in these places the youths were traced to a rooming house on Prospect street, where the arrests were made. At the Binghamton police headquarters they made a complete confession of robberies committed by them there as well as those in this city.

A singular fact in the case is that the Binghamton police had been misled by the large number of robberies occurring in that city, on which they could get no trace of the robbers. Several safes had their combinations badly battered, and in two cases it is understood safes were opened. In another store in that city merchandise to the value of $1,400 had been stolen and disposed of. Many other thefts of merchandise had been made by them in that city, ranging in value from $15 to $30.

Not all the clothing stolen in this city was recovered yesterday, as much of it had been sold to individuals in Binghamton, as well as to pawn shops. Among the goods recovered which were stolen from the Rochester Clothing company, was an overcoat valued at $65, which had been sold in that city for $13, a suit of clothes and some silk socks.

When questioned as to why they came to Oneonta, they stated that Binghamton was getting too warm for them; they felt that the police would get them there shortly, and that they would make their final haul in this city, using the money to get them away. Both claimed they were going to quit the game after their haul in this city. Lacey claimed he had made arrangements to go to Detroit. The police of this city, however, proved their undoing.

The pair will be arraigned before Judge Holmes in police court this morning for examination, and they will probably be held for the grand jury.

FIRST FORTNIGHTLY MEETING

Prof. E. W. Ambiel of Normal Faculty Considers the Educational Requirement for Voters.

The first of the series of meetings of the Fortnightly club of Oneonta was held last evening at the home of Granville Rathbun on South Side. The intimation in The Star of recent days that preceding the regular program supper would be served at 6 30 o'clock was sufficient inducement for all to be on hand early, though always it is true that the announcement of a meeting of the club with its South Side members is enough to bring a large attendance, so enjoyable are those functions sure to be.

Last evening was no exception to the rule. There was abundance of home-grown products, chicken, and vegetables and pies, and other viands as delectable, and there was a membership which was as attentive to the order of the hour as it was later to the paper by Prof. Ambiel of the Normal faculty, who, under the title of "Who Should Vote?" discussed the various phases of the franchise question, from practically all view-points save that of sex.

So far as the colonists were concerned, they had ideas of limited franchise only, and the requirements varied greatly in the different colonies. The adoption of the federal constitution brought no uniformity of qualifications for the franchise, since presidential electors were to be chosen by the same voters, as representatives of the state legislature, and always there have been several classes of exclusions, varying in the states. Incapacity, residence, property ownership, religion and other moral restrictions are some of them.

The paper as a whole, however, was a plea for the educational qualification, which just now is most under consideration. No one claims that the literacy test is a political Peruna. It is at the best a workable, selective test, thoroughly in line with American policies, and it justly places the illiterate man in the list of undesirables. Ignorance is a distinct menace, and anarchy and social disorders thrive best among the eight millions in America who are beyond the reach of inspiration and conference because unable to read an English newspaper. Americanization is in the air, and the literacy test would aid assimilation immensely. The educational qualification emphasizes the fact that the granting of suffrage should be in recognition of the voter's having reached a certain plane of mental and moral development, rather than his having merely filled out 21 years of existence.

The old claim of class legislation is again being raised. There is one classification in this country which must be wiped out, the illiterates and the illiterates. Such an arrangement would put suffrage in the hands of those intelligent enough to know what they are voting for.

The address was a very interesting and forcible presentation of perhaps the most important of American questions, and was followed by a lively discussion in which all participated. The next meeting of the club will be held November 24 at the home of W. F. Eggleston. The speaker will be Dr. George J. Dann, and his theme "Guarantors of Civilization."

Preliminary to the paper and discussion and as an after-dinner feature of the meeting, there was a humorous reading, given in his best vein, by Prof. A. M. Curtis; an inspiring address apropos of Armistice day by Dr. James C. Russell; and a poem, "Remembered Things," by A. B. Saxton.

OUR PEACE STILL MENACED

THE HOUR CALLS FOR PATRIOTIC LOYALTY TO AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS

So Declares Dr. Russell in Thrilling Message to Oneonta Elks at Armistice Day Celebration Last Evening.

You may have thought peace secure and the danger to civilization past when the armistice was signed a year ago today said Rev. Dr. Russell, addressing Oneonta Elks last evening at their home at the celebration of Armistice Day, but continuing he declared you cannot have failed to recognize that as a result of the war and the widespread unrest the world over that an even more serious and critical condition is before us—a situation that calls for the display of heroic courage and self sacrifice, for the putting aside of partiality and sectarianism and the assertion of firm loyalty to American institutions for the preservation and perpetuation of all that is good in our civilization.

When 11,000 people can assemble in an American city and has when the name of the government, of the president, of the church and of justice are mentioned and then cheer when the abolition of all government is advocated, when the overthrow of society is urged, when anarchy and rebellion against all constituted authority are espoused, it is time that all true Americans united in preserving what is good.

Unrest is all right when it is intelligently directed and makes for betterment but those who would destroy all that it has taken centuries to establish and have nothing whatever to offer in its place it spells utter chaos and ruin. We should say to all Red emissaries and Bolsheviks, you must be loyal to America and advocate only the elimination of evils, preserving that which is right, or else get out.

We all recognize that some things are not as they should be and we should be united in eliminating them, meanwhile preserving the republic and its principles of equal and exact justice for all, with no special privileges either to wealth or labor, with the square deal for everybody—then will the nation be preserved and the world advanced toward the golden age for which we fondly hope.

This briefly and quite inadequately epitomizes the close of the truly remarkable address to which every one present listened attentively, inspired by the eloquence of the reverend gentleman. It followed a pitiful and instructive summary of the significance of Armistice Day. At its close Dr. Russell was cheered until he arose and bowed his appreciation.

The address followed a choice musical program arranged by J. J. Gessner during which the Elks chorus sang several numbers. Fenton Charles and Byron Chesbro sang solos and Exalted Ruler Edward M. Ronan made brief but happy remarks. The exercises closed with the Eleven o'clock tribute to "our absent brothers." Later there was a buffet luncheon and a social hour closed the fitting celebration.

Put it on the list of things you want. Kilpnockie the coffee drinker's delight. adv. 17.

Surviving her are her husband, one daughter, Miss Ruth, now teaching in New Jersey; one son, Robert, residing at home, and her mother, Mrs. P. C. Giehrst, formerly of this city, but recently residing with the daughter at Cortland. To all the family the sympathy of Oneonta friends will be extended.

Leola Lucey
Drawn from actual photograph

Why Monday's audience at the Oneonta Theatre was so completely mystified. Leola Lucey was inside the phonograph in all excepting physical presence

At first reading, the story of the New Edison's performance last Monday night at the Oneonta Theatre seems fraught with mystery.

But the explanation is simple enough.

First, get a picture of what happened. Miss Lucey sang Roses of Memory. She stopped after the first few lines, but her voice flowed on without a break. No one even noticed she had stopped—until some eyes, keener than the rest, saw her lips were still. It was only then that realization dawned. The audience found it had been listening to the New Edison.

To every ear, the two voices, living and RE-CREATED, had been without a shade of difference.

That was what so mystified the audience. They had expected the RE-CREATED art to betray its phonographic origin. It was a step too advanced for their comprehension that this instrument should be all that Miss Lucey is excepting her physical presence.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

This extraordinary proof is the only means through which people learn to appreciate the true powers of the New Edison. If you are interested in music, it is indeed unfortunate that you were not present.

Yet, you know this is a test which no other phonograph dares to attempt. It is proof that no one can evade or deny. The New Edison is the only phonograph which RE-CREATES music and the soul of music. Come in and hear it for yourself.

*The instrument used in Monday's Tone-Test is the regular model which sells for $285 (in Canada $431). It is an exact duplicate of the Laboratory Model which Mr. Edison perfected after spending Three Million Dollars in experiments.
